

FOREST PROTECTION WEEK AND ARBOR DAY—1924

By the President of the United State of America

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, it is essential to the continued comfort, welfare, and prosperity of the people of the United States that abundant forests, widely distributed and maintained in a condition of high productiveness, be forever wisely conserved as one of our greatest natural resources; and

WHEREAS, because of our constantly increasing need for wood and other forest products, together with our past failure to provide for reforestation, we are drawing upon our supplies of timber four times as fast as they are renewed through growth; and

WHEREAS, the most formidable agency of forest destruction and prevention of reforestation is fire, and of the fires which annually devastate vast areas, four-fifths are ascribed in origin to human agencies and virtually all may be controlled and made innocuous through prudence, care and vigilance;

THEREFORE, I, CALVIN COOLIDGE, President of the United States, do urge upon the Governors of the various States to designate and set apart the week of April 21-27, 1924, as Forest Protection Week, and, wherever practicable and not in conflict with State law or accepted customs, to celebrate Arbor Day within that week. I also urge all citizens, either in association or as individuals, all schools, and the press of the land to give common thought to the protection of our forests from fire, to the end that, in the future as in the past, these forests may supply us with wood, protect the purity of our streams, and otherwise serve the people of the United States.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 15th day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-eighth.

CALVIN COOLIDGE

By the President;
CHARLES E. HUGHES,
Secretary of State.

MRS. KNIGHT IS EIGHTY-NINE AND HELPING OTHERS

RESIDENT OF CITY FOR MANY YEARS. BE-LOVED BY ALL

Making the Path of Life
Brighter for Others Has Given Mrs. Knight a Life
Full of Sunshine.

"Still achieving, still pursuing" is a line from Longfellow that applies particularly to Mrs. Charlotte Knight of San Antonio Heights, who celebrated her 89th birthday anniversary in January, and is well on toward completing her ninetyeth year in good bodily and mental health.

Mrs. Knight came here thirty years ago from New England and purchased property on San Antonio Heights, where she has resided ever since. She does all her own housework and sews and reads without the need of glasses. At threading a needle she puts many a young woman of sixty to the blush, and her mind is well stored with poems and quotations from many of the well-known writers.

Mrs. Knight comes down to Upland to do her own marketing and the figure of the active little lady on the business streets is a protest against growing old quickly. Mrs. Knight, while claiming nearly ninety years of living, is in reality fully thirty years younger in her actions, thoughts, and feelings, and can do physical and mental work that many a middle-aged woman would be proud to acknowledge doing.

For example, last Thursday afternoon was the meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Bethany Union Church on the Heights—the land on which the church is built, by the way, being a gift several years ago of Mrs. Knight—and Mrs. Knight, who was hostess that afternoon, after doing her usual housework, came down to Upland for her shopping, returned home, got the noonday meal, and was a bright and lively hostess to the guests who arrived at two-thirty for an afternoon's sewing.

The members went to the church parlors for the early part of the afternoon, as quilts were being made, and there was more space than in the Knight bungalow. After the quilting frames had been used for an hour or so, the members adjourned to the home of Mrs. Knight, close to the church, where a business session was held. Later delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and a delightful hour enjoyed. Among those present were Mrs. C. E. Gamsby, Mrs. A. N. Baker, Mrs. A. W. Burt, Mrs. P. J. Moser, Mrs. John Shingler, Mrs. W. B. Sage, Mrs. M. Bradshaw, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Loring N. Kirk and a guest, Mrs. Harry Plum, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. H. J. Clewett, Mrs. F. Warburton, Mrs. J. L. Miner, Mrs. Millard, Mrs. J. Sanborn, Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. J. G. Henry, Miss Leitch, Miss Forbes, Miss Sawyer.

BUILDING GETS OFF HYDRANT OFF TOO

In laying out plans for the reconstruction of the building occupied by the Upland Planning Mill, the Fox-Woodsum Company discovered a most unusual condition.

When the Waterman garage building was built, it failed to stay on its own lot and veered off the rear end toward the planning mill, thus deserting some of its own lot. After the building was completed the condition was adjusted between the property owners and now the Fox-Woodsum Lumber Company, whose property is to the north of the Waterman garage, uses the portion of the lot deserted by the garage building.

J. E. Sargent, of the Fox-Woodsum Lumber Co., owners of the planning mill, states that the Waterman's are the finest of neighbors. For several years there has been a hydrant at the rear of the planning mill which everyone connected with the mill supposed was connected with the mill's water meter.

It was discovered the other day that the hydrant was connected with the Waterman garage meter and that Waterman had been supplying his neighbor with water over a period of several years.

TO CERTIFY EAST BOUND CARS OF CITRUS FRUIT VEGETABLES

THE HOOF AND MOUTH
DISEASE STILL SERI-OUS IN SOUTH

Officials Making Every Effort to Protect County from Disease. Animals Must Not Be Moved. Garbage Is Cooked.

Provision for certification of eastbound cars of citrus fruits and vegetables from areas uninfested by the hoof and mouth disease, together with reports here of a new outbreak of the disease near Pasadena, and suspected cases at Whittier, marked a day of uneasiness among officials who are battling to keep the disease from this county.

As the result of the fresh outbreaks in Los Angeles County, additional guards and more drastic regulations will be ordered in San Bernardino County. It was announced by Dr. A. D. Hubbell, county veterinarian, and J. P. Coy, agricultural inspector. The disease is now reaching closer to San Bernardino County.

Halt Traffic on Chino Road
All traffic was ordered halted on the road entering Chino Valley from Prado and which passes through a section where 3,000 of Chino's 10,000 dairy and beef cattle are located. Motorists must use the Chino-Corona road.

All garbage entering this county for use on hog farms was ordered cooked before reaching the county line. Horticultural inspectors of Southern California met in Los Angeles yesterday to consider the citrus fruit and vegetable situation. Shipments will be stopped from infested areas but non-infested areas will continue to ship and cars will be supplied with certifications of inspection by state authorities to guarantee to eastern states that the cars are not from the danger zones.

The citrus fruit and vegetable situation is causing much uneasiness as other states are preparing to enforce strict quarantines. From a region remote from disease centers this county has been transformed over night by the new Los Angeles cases into the main line of defense against the cattle plague. It was declared by Dr. Hubbell.

Redoubled Efforts to Save County
Redoubled efforts will mark the work of inspectors, guards and others who are working together along the west line of the county to prevent the spread of the disease.

Dr. Hubbell declared that the road closing operations of Los Angeles County had been about as effective as nothing at all to date. Instead of the barbed wire entanglements, barriers and trenches, a sawhorse bearing the inscription "road closed" and a pendant red lantern are the extent of the road closing.

Los Angeles newspapers declared that the road closing would permit the release of a large number of guards. Whether this has been done or not was not known last night. If the Los Angeles guards have been withdrawn under the belief that a red lantern will stop traffic, the San Bernardino County guards will have a double task in store, for theirs will be the only inspection between the dairy districts here and the closely quarantined areas.

County Officials Said Animals
Must Not Move
The movement of all livestock is being further curtailed. Animals are forbidden to leave premises of owners, even to cross a public highway.

The garbage question was taken up when a delegation from Chino appealed to the Board of Supervisors to close a hog-farm in that district and near to the Los Angeles County line, and keep out of the county all uncooked garbage. This hog-farm is supported by garbage from the city of Pomona. The Chino delegation included C. A. Marks, president of the Chino Chamber of Commerce; H. A. Eastman, director of the farm bureau center; S. A. Minnich and W. W. Carpenter.

J. D. McGregor, representing the Fontana Company, was present. Mr. McGregor said that while his company was taking every precaution to protect its $700,000 hog plant at Fontana, it would go further and establish additional

TOO MUCH WILSON CONFUSES VOTERS SAY THE WILSONS

V. H. WILSON and HARLOW
S. WILSON NOT CANDIDATES

B. B. Wilson, who Resides at the Corner of Campus Ave., and 11th Street, is a Candidate and Proud of It.

This is a story of Wilson—that's all.

Friends of V. H. Wilson, of "Wilson's," dealer in men's wearing apparel as well as dry goods and women's wear, insist that he is a candidate for the city council and that they are going to vote for him. V. H. Wilson resides at 677 Euclid Avenue.

Friends of Harlow S. Wilson, cashier of the First National Bank, also insist that he is going to be a member of the next city council, for many have told him he can count on their vote. Harlow S. Wilson resides at 691 Euclid Avenue.

B. B. Wilson, who resides on the corner of Campus Avenue and Eleventh Street, is the only Wilson in town who confesses to being a candidate for the city council at this time, and he spells his name "Wilson," with two L's.

V. H. Wilson, dealer in things to wear for man and woman, is not a candidate. Harlow S. Wilson, cashier of the First National, is not a candidate—but B. B. Wilson is a candidate, he's proud of it, and a lot of his friends and neighbors have told him they are going to vote for him.

FOOD CONTROL

Gwendoline, indignantly: "Why did you fail to keep your appointment with me yesterday?"

New Suitor: "I'm awfully sorry, but I was compelled to wait in a restaurant until it was too late."

Gwendoline: "Pardon me, but I thought you had a position in a bank. I wasn't aware that you were a waiter."

WASTED BREATH

A Texas attorney was delivering a Fourth of July oration. He had held forth prosily for nearly an hour, apparently without getting anywhere. At length he stopped, and then said in impressive tones: "I pause to ask myself a question."

A voice from the back of the hall shouted: "Better not. You'll only get a fool answer."—Lawyer and Banker.

Two More New Buildings Announced For Upland

Fox-Woodsum and J. H. Herman
Announce Erection of Concrete
Buildings to House Businesses

Announcement is made today of two new buildings for Upland.

The Fox-Woodsum Lumber Company, owner of the Upland Planing Mill at the corner of A Street and Euclid Avenue, is to erect a building 40x50 feet of concrete construction to house its plant.

All of the building will not be erected at this time but the building will be extended to the sidewalk making a decided improvement over the present building which is frame construction.

J. E. Sargent, manager for Fox-Woodsum Company here, stated this morning that it was the plan of the company to first build the front part of the building extending it to the sidewalk and at a later date raze the wooden structure and make the entire building of concrete construction.

Although of frame construction and with the greatest fire hazard of any plant in town the planing mill has experienced several near fires but each time escaped by a narrow margin.

Herman Building

Announcement is made today of the construction of an office building adjoining the Draper Undertaking Parlors on the north at Ninth Street and First Avenue by J. H. Herman. The new building will be of 40x50 feet of concrete blocks. The front will be of Kellastone of a most attractive design and the building will have a tile roof.

Mr. Herman stated this morning that details as to who would occupy the new building had not been completed, but announcement would probably be made within a short time as two or three concerns were desirous of offices.

SPRINGER SPRINGS NEW ONE ON BOARD

Members of the Board of Directors of the Upland Chamber of Commerce are all at sea, all because "Bill" Springer pulled something new.

Over a period of several years the losing team in the annual membership drive has always invited the officers and members of the Board of Directors to the annual feed as their guests.

In Friday's issue of The News "Bill" Springer, who heads the losing side, asked this newspaper to invite the directors, but to tell them to "bring their own."

Just what sort of joke "Bill" and his trusty assistants are going to play on the directors no one knows, but they all say they are going to enjoy it.

FAMOUS PRINTS TO BE SHOWN AT LIBRARY

Some wonderful specimens of the famous Copley prints will be on view next week during the afternoon and evening at the Upland Public Library, which the public are cordially invited to see. Miss Charlotte Reed, crafts and art instructor in Chaffey Union High School, announces that the prints are well worth a good hour's visit, and as Chaffey will be closed next week on account of the holidays, the exhibition will take place in the basement of the library. Everyone is invited.

With a total of 1422 inches of rain for the season, the amount is creeping up rapidly to the total of last year, 1884, and indications are that there will be enough rain to make the water supply safe for the year, though this doesn't mean that water may be wasted.

The amount in Upland from Saturday night to this morning was 1.19. In Friday's issue it was erroneously stated that in April, 1923, there was no rain here at all. This is a mistake, as there was a rainfall of 3.42 during the month.

FLOWER SHOW TO BE HELD IN MAY

The Flower Show committee met in the basement of the library on Monday afternoon and, with renewed enthusiasm, partly finished the plans for this event, which will take place Friday and Saturday of the first or second week in May. If the weather should turn decidedly warm the earlier date would undoubtedly be set. With conditions as they are, the second date will be chosen.

Three sides of the basement will be used for the exhibit of flowers—one whole side being given over to wild flowers alone and the plans of the committee at present is to have a speaker who thoroughly knows the wild flowers on California to give a short lecture. Cut flowers and potted plants will be exhibited on the other two sides, and on the fourth side the plans for the beautifying of small city lots will be shown.

The committee will solicit or try to solicit the town to get a line-up on exhibits that may be made. There are to be no charges for any entrant, but a small admission will be charged to pay the expenses of the affair. This is a community affair and it is hoped to make it a great success so that it may become an annual event. The president of the different women's organizations of the town are at the head of the Flower Show and anyone will be glad to answer questions relative to it. Mrs. G. L. Winter, Business and Professional Women's Club; Mrs. William Tuttle, Upland Woman's Club; Mrs. Geo. Duley, W.C.T.U.; and Miss Flora Morley, secretary of the Flower Show.

UPLAND HENS TAKE FIRST AND SECOND PLACE IN MARCH

The records in the Chaffey Community Trapping Station for the month of March are exceptionally good. The average production during this period for the entire flock was 68.6 per cent.

Upland men are in the lead. One of the entries of B. S. Smallwood has an average for the month of 26.06 eggs per hen. The entry of Leslie Strawn is second with an average of 24.94 eggs, and that of C. L. Holmes is third with 24.84 eggs. Then follow in succession the following seven high entries:

Chaffey hen No. 423 also stood 30 eggs, but the previous production of 94 eggs gives this hen second place for the month. B. S. Smallwood's hen No. 134 also produced 30 eggs, three being pullet eggs. SEASON'S BEST COMEDY COMING

With what is declared to be the cleverest comedy written in fifty years and one of the best-known and most delightful of the successful light operas both in course of preparation, The Community Players are planning to give the people of the West End a real treat during the coming month. It was announced today, while Bess Fredendall Woodruff, directing "The Torch Bearers," declared today that she was of the opinion that The Players have selected the finest cast ever to appear in a local dramatic offering, she was not yet ready to announce its personnel. Mrs. Woodruff is being assisted in directing "The Torch Bearers" by Miss Wilhelmina Barnes and rehearsals are already going forward in excellent shape. The comedy is to be given at Chaffey Auditorium on the evenings of May 2 and 3.

And no less interesting than "The Torch Bearers" will be the presentation at Chaffey on the evenings of May 16 and 17 of that well-known opera, "The Bohemian Girl," under the direction of Ivan Benner, talented vocalist and instructor.

Mr. Benner today declared himself well pleased with the talent that he has secured for the opera, rehearsals for which have been progressing for some weeks. Most of the singers are well and favorably known locally. The cast, as announced by the director, follows: Count Arnheim, Charles W. Walker; Thaddeus, Neill North; Florestine, Lee Marrs; Devilshoof, George Young; Captain of the Guard, David E. D. Robertson; Arline (first act), Florence Benner; Arline (second and third acts), Mrs. Ivan Benner; Buda, Mrs. Charles A. Mayo; Queen of the Gypsies, Mrs. R. M. Karnes.

Mrs. Charles Leo Tuttle, well-known instructor, will be in charge of the dancing, and will furnish the principal dancers from among her own pupils. Miss Leonora Tuttle, her talented young daughter, will be featured in a solo dance.

The chorus rehearsals have been going forward in excellent shape and Mr. Benner announced today that there were a few vacancies for people who need not sing.

That there are to be some particularly charming scenic effects in "The Bohemian Girl" is seen in the announcement that now being painted under the direction of Miss Charlotte Reed, art director of Chaffey High School, and no trouble or expense is being spared to insure a standard performance.

Lee Marrs is to be in charge of the stage management. The accompaniments will be furnished by two pianos and the pipe organ. Presiding at the pianos will be Miss Ala Ballou and Mrs. Charles W. Walker, while Mrs. Earl Johnson will play the pipe organ.

THE SALOME SUN GAS STATION EDITION

When your tire goes flat and settles down on the road 10 miles from town (Salome) and you wonder where or what you'll do—for the other spare tire is blown out too—and the kids all cry for water to drink and your wife asks why don't you ever think—then, by gosh, you'll wish you'd bought that tire we asked you too.

Saleratus Bill Withers has just got back from New York where he went to sell his mine. Bill says when they saw his ruck ore they winned him and dined him and win-mined him and signed him up on some dotted line so fast and artistically that he don't remember yet just what he ate or drank or whether he is married or sold his mine or not, so he's just waiting and wondering who got beat—but he says he don't care much so long as he is back here again with the burros because New York is a hell of a place for a white man to have to try to live and no wonder most of them go crazy back there.

Major Jo Hardie and Col. C. R. Ammon are over from Santa Monica playing the Grease-wood Golf Course and expect to get around in time to go home before hot weather set in. They have a good guide and camping outfit and were last heard from out near Wildcat Pass where Hardie was waiting for Ammon to get his ball over Funeral Mountains and down to the Lazy L ranch where they are going to rest awhile before tackling the War A Way up through Gold Gulch.

My frog says Arizona sure is dry when a frog has to carry a big canteen and water on his back to keep green and prime himself when he wants to cry and his belly gets burned with the alkali and life on the desert ain't no joke to a frog out here alone and broke and seven years old, can't swim a stroke—so he's just trying to live to smoke.

Ed Bok back east offered $100,000 for the best receipt for a World Peace Plan and then give the prize to some fellow who used a whole page and wrote a big book of rules telling how to do it. I wrote and told him for everybody to learn to laugh and quit their fighting and he never even answered my letter or give nothing. I don't see no sense in making peace so god darn complicated when it all ought to be so simple. Most folks would rather fight than have to learn the big book of rules. It's getting so you have to laugh all according to law—and by the time your lawyer is through with you, you either don't want to laugh or else you have forgot what you wanted to laugh about. This here civilization is making it harder and harder to live and laugh and a real man could have more fun if he was an Apache trying to run a Jack Rabbit down with a bow and arrow-Salome Sun.

Fourteen Measures On the Ballot

HERE are already fourteen measures to go on the November ballot and the day is yet young. In other words, there is yet opportunity for more measures to qualify for initiative enactment, and there are several petitions out. It is likely the number will reach up to eighteen or twenty when the ballots comes around. August 5 is the last day for filing petitions of this character. Here is the list as far as it goes:

Boxing bill—Legalizing ten-round fights.

Franchise act—Providing that the State Railroad Commission have exclusive power to grant determinate or indeterminate franchise for motor vehicle transportation for compensation upon streets and highways. Same to apply to inter-urban and suburban railways.

Water and power act—Empowering the state to develop and distribute water and electric energy and authorize issuance of bonds not exceeding $500,000,000 to promote projects.

Single tax measure.

Anti-vivisection act.

Initiative act—Increases number of signatures to be obtained on initiative measures.

Act to tax publicly-owned utilities—Provides utilities owned by municipality, county, district or other public agency are subject to same tax as utilities owned by corporations.

Act to regulate publicly-owned public utilities—Provides they shall be under jurisdiction of State Railroad Commission.

Fish preserve act—An act designed to make the Klamath river a state protected fish reserve.

Fish and game amendment—Providing that all collections of state fish and game commission shall be used solely by that body.

Tax on foreign insurance agencies—Providing that all foreign life insurance companies shall pay a 2 per cent tax, the proceeds to go toward assisting municipalities in paying pensions of retired firemen.

The two proposed constitutional amendments:

Tax amendment—Provides that a public utility paying state taxes may deduct from gross receipts from operation of its business any amount it pays to other public utility when that amount is included in gross receipts from which tax of latter utility is computed.

Municipal public works act—Authorizes two or more municipalities to acquire or control by contract public works for supplying inhabitants with light, water, power, heat, transportation or other utility service.

The bond act is: Land settlement bond act—Providing for a bond issue of $3,000,000 to carry out the purposes of the land settlement act.

Calvin Coolidge

THOUGH oil scandals and star chamber investigations may mar the history, America has been fortunate in its presidents. They form a great company. There is something in the office that lifts ordinary men elected to it to higher levels. There has been something in each president to give him special fitness for the job as he found it.

Calvin Coolidge preserves the best traditions of our presidents these trying times. His high courage wins praise from all sections of the land. That he has had the courage to keep silent amid all the babel of Washington only adds to his stature in the public estimation.

Whether they agree or disagree with Mr. Coolidge's views on public questions, people of sense and discrimination are proud of him.

Nor has the president been silent where words were needed. He favored the World Court against the counsel of those who besought him to ignore this issue. He spoke his mind adequately on the bonus. He had his brief but complete word on tax reduction.

These are evidences that President Coolidge has no hesitancy in speaking his mind. His silence is not due to a desire to soft-pedal anything of controversial nature. One notable word of his gives a key as to his nature. "The world has had enough of the curse of hatred and selfishness, of destruction and war. It has had enough of the wrongful use of material power. For the healing of the nations there must be good will and charity, confidence and peace."

Spoken before the present scandals, these words give an inkling of the reason for his present deliberation.

Being president of these United States is a business proposition infiltrated with religion. This Vermont farmer boy, so unattractive and so lucky, has a common-sense based as broad as the hill in which he was born and a spiritual side of his nature as high as their peaks.

He brings to the hour what the hour precisely needs.

Walking As An Art

FROM the many advertised "courses" of exercise one gains the impression that the long-sought cure is at hand. All that is needed is one of these "courses" which is the key that opens the door to abounding health—to "100 per cent efficiency!" Now some of these "courses" may have something of value in them; in fact, a few of them may almost be worth the price that is charged for them. None, however, will bring about any better general health than can be obtained by the good-old-fashioned walk of our grandfathers. It has often been said that if fresh air were a commercial commodity and all that is used had to be purchased, it would be more highly prized and more lavishly employed. It is equally true that if walking were part of a system of exercises that had to be learned through purchased "courses", it would be more popular. A good free swinging gait; clothing adapted to the weather; shoes that do not cramp the feet and are not too light; a mental attitude that makes you enjoy a walk instead of looking on it as a task to be done—and you have an exercise that will make you more fit than any purchased "course," and a tonic that will put to shame all tonics that were ever put up in bottle. Try it.

FAMILIAR POEMS

A PSALM OF LIFE
(With Apologies to Longfellow)

Tell me not the sad surmises
Of our senators so keen,
Who in teapots, find surprises,
Making men not what they seem.

Democrats who seek to further
Politics in every way,
Stopping nothing short of murder,
Reputations ruthless slay.

They would have us all believing
Cabinet members' only goal
Is the taxpayer's deceiving
And an e'er increasing roll.

Inference and accusations
Fall on innocent as well
As the guilty, and the nation's Highest don't escape the spell.

Lives of great men now remind us
They are all accused of crime,
And the greatest leave behind us
Doubts upon the sands of time.

Doubts as to their honest living,
When perhaps they've been pure gold;
Public minds are tired giving
Time and thought to scandal told.

Right is Might! And patience fleeting
And our hearts, tho' stout and brave,

Wearied are of base repeating
Charges false, tho' no less grave

In this senatorial battle
Let's be heroes in the strife!
Be not like dumb driven cattle,
But demand the truth of life.

Let's not jump at the conclusion
All the honest men have died!
Let's be too big for collusion—
Men are innocent till tried.

Our own thinking let's be doing
With a heart for any fate;
Nought condoning, truth pursuing;
Learn to listen and to wait.

THE JOB

Take this, my boy, and remember it long,
Though now it may strike you as funny.

A job with a chance to improve and advance
Is better than one that pays money.

Take a hint from an old man
who's travelled the way,
Just heed to his counsel a minute,
But that's all there will ever be in it.

Don't look at the cash, as so many boys do,
Take a look at the long years before you;

See how much you can learn, not how much you can earn,
And the place which the future
has for you.

Can you rise from the post where they'd have you begin?
How far will this humble job take you?

These are questions to ask. They pay well for the task,
But what sort of a man will it make you?

Oh, many a boy has begun with a rush,
And has grabbed for a man's wages blindly;

Now he sticks as a man at the spot he began,
And thinks life has used him
unkindly.

So, look for a job with a future ahead,
Seek a chance to grow greater and greater.

Seek a place where you know as you work you will grow,
And the money will come to you later.

TO A SEA-BIRD

Sauntering hither on listless wings
Careless vagabond of the sea,
Little thou heedest the surf that sings,

The bar that thunders, the shale
that rings,—
Give me to keep thy company.

Little thou hast, old friend, that's new;
Storms and wrecks are old things to thee;

Stick am I of these changes, too;
Little to care for, little to rue,—
I on the shore, and thou on the sea.

All of thy wanderings, far and near,
Bring thee at last to shore and me;

All of my journeyings end them
here,
This our tether must be our cheer,—
I on the shore, and thou on the sea.

Lazily rocking on ocean's breast,
Something in common, old friend, have we;
Thou on the shingle seekest thy nest,

I to the waters look for rest,—
I on the shore, and thou on the sea.

—Francis Bret Hart

THE PRIMROSE

Ask me why I send you here
This sweet infant of the year?
Ask me why I send to you
This primrose, thus bearded with dew?

I will whisper to your ears,
The sweets of love are mixed with tears.

Ask me why this flower does show
So yellow green and sickly too?
Ask me why the stalk is weak
And bending, yet it doth not break?

I will answer, these discover
What fainting hopes are in a lover

ANOTHER REASON MEN LEAVE HOME

The automobile has finally outdistanced the telephone as a utility and convenience, according to tabulations just announced by the Automobile Club of Southern California. The total number of telephones in use in the United States at the beginning of 1924 is given as 15,000,101, while the total registration of automobiles in all states is 15,221,183, placing motor vehicles in the lead by nearly a quarter of a million.

This situation developed during the past year when the increase in the number of autos registered was over 23 per cent. While the telephone has not lost any of its popularity, it has not increased in the ratio of the automobile. However, most of the expansion in telephone service has been since 1900, when there were but 676,733 telephones in use. In 1920 there were approximately 2,000,000 more telephones in the United States than automobiles, so that this lead has been overcome in three years until today the motor vehicle must be accorded first place.

In Southern California, where the automobile population is densest in the United States, motor vehicles show a decided numerical lead over the telephone. Here there are in use 380,004 phones, while the motor vehicles in this section approximate 600,000.

CLEAN HANDS PREVENT DISEASE

The human hand is one of the best accumulators and at the same time the best carrier of the disease germ. The hand constantly is coming in contact with objects which carry germs—the office door knob, the pen at the postoffice desk, the hand rail of the street car, metal and paper money, hand of the friend grasped in greeting, the bank counter, the hotel register, any part of the interior of an auto stage—in fact, almost every object of contact.

The human hand is warm and moist—continuously so between the fingers. Moisture and warmth are the two conditions, when they occur together, most favorable for the existence, growth and reproduction of the germ.

It becomes evident, then, that frequent washing of the hands, preferably in hot water, is a reasonable safeguard against taking a disease or passing on the accumulated germs to the members of the family or acquaintances. Arriving at the home in the evening, that should be the first duty of the husband as it should be that of the wife and children upon returning to the house. Especially is this essential during epidemics.

Hands are not washed more frequently in hot water because the convenience is lacking during business hours. In the home there is no excuse. Most humans are now furnished with the automatic gas heater which gives an instant abundant supply of hot water at all times.

A SUITABLE REBUKE

Judge Gary of Chicago, the story goes, while trying a case, was disturbed by a young man who kept moving about in the rear of the court room, lifting chairs and looking under things. "Young man," Judge Gary called out, "you are making a good deal of unnecessary noise. What are you about?" "Your Honor," replied the young man, "I have lost my overcoat and am trying to find it." "Well," said the judge, "people often lose whole suits in here without making all that disturbance."—Christian Herald.

CHAMBER MUSIC SOCIETY COMING TO BRIDGES HALL

The Pomona College Music and Drama Course presents the Chamber Music Society of San Francisco on Saturday evening, April 19th, in Bridges Hall, at 8 o'clock.

Louis Persinger, the musical director and first violinist of this organization, has been recognized for several years as one of the most genuinely gifted American artists before the public; a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Leipzig, and later pupil of Ysaye and Thibaud, he became solo violinist of the Orchestra du Theatre Royal de la Monnaie in Brussels; just prior to the war he was elected concertmaster of the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra in competition with fifty others.

Louis Ford, violinist, is an American artist of great distinction. Prior to joining the Chamber Music Society in 1916, he had been first violinist and director of other ensembles. He has also been assistant concertmaster of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra and of other prominent orchestral bodies.

The viola desk is in the capable and artistic hands of Nathan Firestone, also an American, who is acknowledged universally as ranking high among the leading violinists in America. Saint-Saens, under whom he played as solo viola said of him: "I have never conducted a better viola player in my life." Alfred Hertz, on his arrival to take charge of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra some years ago, of which Firestone was solo viola player for five years, was delighted to find such a perfect artist at his command.

Walter Ferner, violoncellist, was born in Baltimore, Md. He began the study of the cello in his ninth year, and after several years of tuition in this country, went to Eu-

SPERRY AIDING STATE IN FIGHT

To aid in the strict enforcement of measures necessary to combat the spread of hoof and mouth disease, the Sperry Flour Co. announces the voluntary withdrawal of all its representatives dealing direct with farmers. This action necessarily interrupts an important service to thousands of farmers, especially dairymen, poultrymen and stock-raisers, but the Sperry Flour Co. feels that the emergency calls for drastic measures if a disaster to the agricultural industry of the state and the nation is to be averted.

So far as possible the service now performed by direct calls on farmers will be carried on by telephone. Every effort will be made to prevent hardship arising from shortages of feeds on farms affected and to reduce the inconvenience to feeders to a minimum.

In line with its purpose to support the campaign of suppression in every possible way, the professional services of representatives of the Sperry Flour Co. will be diverted to the use of the state and federal authorities, wherever practicable, to assist in stamping out the dread contagion.

rope, winning a scholarship in the Royal Conservatory of Leipzig. In his second year of study there with the distinguished Master, Prof. Julius Klegel, he was awarded the Mendelssohn-Bartholdy prize. At the age of nineteen he was engaged as solo cellist of the Wiesbaden Royal Orchestra, and after being four years in that position, joined the famous Philharmonic Orchestra of Berlin in like capacity.

Elias Hecht, founder of the organization, ranks among the very first ensemble flutists of America today. As pupil of Mole of Boston, Correggio of Frankfurt, and Barrere of Paris and New York, he developed into a splendid artist. During his last three years abroad, prior to 1912, he played with the famous Concert-Verein Quartet of Munich, a distinction never before that time accorded any other American artist.

SCANDAL CASES ARE DISMISSED

Two more so-called Pomona "scandal" cases blew up in the Superior Court in Los Angeles on Tuesday afternoon when Jules Tissot and Elsworth De Young, Chinese youths, were soon acquitted by a jury. According to Attorney Mitchell of Ontario, who represented the boys, the evidence against them was unusually flimsy.

With the action of the jury in these two cases it became known that half or more than half of the boys arrested in the "scandal probe" have now been either dismissed because of lack of evidence against them or have been found not guilty when their cases have come to trial. Hearings in two of the cases where the boys have pleaded not guilty, were indefinitely postponed while two other cases are scheduled for trial a little later.

In the cases Tuesday the jury decided that the "liquor" which the boys are alleged to have given Aleta Brunton was only cider. The girl testified she took two drinks of the cider. She could not remember whether it was in a jug or a bottle.

Tissot and De Young were arrested at the time of the wholesale raids made here by an investigator of the district attorney's office and on information said to have been given by the Brunton girl or her sister. The boys were charged with contributing to the delinquency of the Brunton girls by giving them liquor to drink while on an automobile ride.

The boys declared from the first that they were not guilty and when arraigned they so pleaded and demanded a jury trial. Aleta Brunton was the principal witness for the prosecution and she was closely questioned by Attorney Mitchell as to the alleged drinking episode. It was at this time that she declared she could not remember whether she drank from a jug or bottle.

Evidence was then introduced by Attorney Mitchell to show that the container was a jug. The girl was not sure what the jug or bottle contained and upon such evidence the jury declined to convict.

THE HOSPITABLE DANE

The great World Meet of Boy Scouts to be held in Copenhagen this summer continues the centre of interest in international Scout circles.

"Everybody in Denmark, from the King downward, is looking forward to the Scouts' International Jamboree which will be held in Copenhagen in August," states the Bulletin of the British Boy Scout Association. "The foreign visitors (about thirty nations will be represented) are in for a good time.

"In addition to the seven days of the Jamboree contests, there will be four days of sight-seeing to the most interesting and beautiful spots in and around the city. The days are disposed of in the following way:

"1—By rail to Frederiksberg Castle, built in the middle of a lake and containing Denmark's National Historical Museum; to Elsinore, famous through Shakespeare's 'Hamlet,' returning by steamer along the coast, the Riviera of Denmark, with Sweden in view.

"2—A trip into the country to visit the farms, where the delicious Danish bacon and butter are produced.

"3—Visits to Danish industries, including the breweries, margarine factories and the works where the first Diesel motor for ships was invented and manufactured.

"4—Free opportunity for getting intimately acquainted with Danish shipping and commerce, visiting the first motor ship in the world, the Danish-Atlantic liners, and sight-seeing in the biggest free port of the Baltic. Besides many other attractions in Copenhagen there will be ample time to visit the Thorvaldsen Museum and the finest collection in the world of prehistoric Stone Age and Bronze Age implements; and the boys will be admitted into some of the King's palaces. One of the evenings the boys will be the guests at a big festivity in 'Tivoli,' the pleasure gardens of Copenhagen, in the very centre of the city, for the occasion to be illuminated by thousands of lanterns."

CITY OF NEEDLES MAY BE MOVED

Voicing what he said is the sentiment of the majority of citizens of Needles on the proposed plan of moving that town to another site and forming an immense lake where Needles now stands by erecting a 200-foot dam in Mojave canyon, Wm. M. Cook, editor of The Nugget at Needles and former editor of the San Bernardino Labor Journal, declared that he is heartily in favor of such an undertaking.

"We at Needles are strongly in favor of the Topeck dam project," said Mr. Cook. "We could move back to Goffs, for instance, or some other high point, and rebuild an ideal city. Goffs is some 3000 or 4000 feet higher than Needles and would be most suitable for the site of a new city.

The plan to move Needles from its present site to make way for a big reservoir for irrigation and power purposes, was proposed by E. C. Larue, government hydraulic engineer, in a recommendation to the Federal Power Commission of the President's Cabinet. This project, it is pointed out, would do away with the Boulder Dam undertaking and prove of much greater benefit to the California region affected. The lake as proposed by Larue, would be formed by erecting a dam, probably at Topeck, Ariz., impounding waters over a large area, including the present site of Needles.

"Few people realize the advantage that such an arrangement would make," continued Mr. Cook. "By forming this lake, giant turbine engines could be turned with the water at the spillway, furnishing power in great quantities, while the water carried through an aqueduct by natural force of gravity could be taken right on through San Bernardino County and to Los Angeles, furnishing all the water that is needed."

MAH JONGG

PARTY—

A most delightful Mah Jongg party was given by Mrs. Hubert Lytle Manker Saturday evening at the home on Mountain Avenue. The invited guests were entirely women but, truth to tell, some of the girls did not come and so "Friend Husband" and another helped to fill the tables out. Following the game, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. First and second prizes were won by Miss Mildred Larsen and Miss Freda Wedel, respectively. The invited guests were: Mrs. Marion Grothe, Mrs. Robert Campbell, Jr., Mrs. David Bradford, Mrs. George Cassell, Mrs. Owen Davis, Mrs. Chas. V. Benson, Mrs. Noble Beahl, Miss Gertrude Eymann, Miss Freda Wedel, Miss Loretta Shinkel, Miss Mildred Bost, Miss Mildred Larsen.

EDITH CAVELL MEMBERS MEET THURSDAY—

Founding Day will be celebrated at the next meeting of the Edith Cavell Chapter, Thursday, April 10th, and members are asked to bring pennies for each year of their age to contribute towards the fund of the Chapter.

The meeting will commence at two-thirty at the home of Mrs. John E. Walker, North Euclid Avenue and H Street, Ontario, and all members are asked to be present.

MRS. OLSON HOSTESS TO EAST SIDE CIRCLE—

Mrs. Alma Olson was hostess to members of the East Side Circle last Thursday afternoon at her home, 280 Eighth Avenue, at the regular monthly meeting. This is the first time for three years Mrs. Olson has been able to entertain any number of friends, owing to illness, and it was a great pleasure to all those present to be able to meet with her in her own home and enjoy her cordial hospitality.

The meeting was filled with discussion of interesting plans for the rest of the year, and included making church social calls on strangers and sick people, and also planning for two quilts to be made for the Red Cross during the coming months.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the business session, and a merry social hour enjoyed by the following: Mrs. Z. J. Farmer, Mrs. Josiah Bacon, Mrs. R. J. Armstrong, Mrs. Henry Harms, Mrs. Roy Bennett, Mrs. John Priestly, Mrs. Schultze, Mrs. Laurence Tyler, Mrs. Lewis T. Cutler, Mrs. W. A. Getty, Mrs. F. M. Keyes.

The next meeting of the East Side Circle will be held at the home of Mrs. Alice Erixon, 859 East Ninth Street, the first Thursday in May.

RUMMAGE SALE PLANNED BY ST. MARK'S GUILD—

Plans for the Rummage Sale to be held in May were talked over at the regular business meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Mark's Church, which was held at the Upland Hotel on Monday afternoon. It had been decided to hold a sale at the March meeting, but owing to the Lenten season coming so soon, plans were not definitely made.

At the meeting yesterday it was thought that early in May would be an appropriate time, and as the Guild Women are also going to have the Colonial Theatre for one evening in that month, and have several other activities planned, May will be a busy month for the members.

Mrs. E. W. Elliott, president, was in charge of the meeting, and spoke of the handsome davenport, chair and rocking chair which the Guild had given towards furnishing the new rectory. Various organizations of the church were each making a gift of furniture for the rectory, and the above-mentioned articles were from the Guild.

The next meeting will be held on May 5th, at the home of Mrs. A. R. Hungerford, Euclid Avenue and 17th Street, when final details for the many May activities will be completed.

ARE ENJOYING NEW YORK CITY—

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Barr, who were married April 2nd at Lynchburg, Virginia, are today at the Pennsylvania Hotel, New York City, where they will spend several days sight-seeing, leaving for home about the 20th of this month and arriving here probably on April 26th.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Barr was a great surprise to even the closest friends of Mr. Barr here. Mrs. Barr came to Upland in May, 1921, with the Chautauqua, heading the Margaret Reynolds Company, which was a trio of artists. Mrs. Barr was the soprano and delighted her audience here. Miss Leslie Taylor, violinist, and Guy Marriner made up the trio.

Friends of Mr. Barr are planning on a most cordial welcome home.

The temporary home of Mr. and Mrs. Barr will be at the Koster Kourt Apartments.

An Upland mother found occasion to reprove her little daughter for some sort of mischief. "I don't see how you can be so naughty," she said. "Mother," responded the little girl, "it's the easiest thing in the world."

NEW MEMBERS FOR BUSINESS WOMAN'S CLUB—

Eight new members were added to the membership list of the Upland Business and Professional Woman's Club at their regular meeting today, held in Crowell Hall, bringing the number up to eighty active members.

Among those who joined were Mrs. Koler, Mrs. Vahl, Mrs. George Gregg, Mrs. E. R. Bowman, Miss Mary Nafius, Miss Ella Haddow, Miss Linda Schmidt.

Mrs. George L. Winter, president, was in the chair, and announced that an invitation had been extended to the members to attend the opening of the Fontana Woman's Clubhouse this evening, and that she hoped several would be able to attend.

Miss Grace Adst gave a very good report of the convention of the state federation held recently in Los Angeles, and which both she and Mrs. Winter attended.

The question of joining the Southern District Federation was brought up by the president, who said that the initial cost would be 15 cents per capita, and that the count of members would be taken from those in the club at the beginning of the year. As there were 56, the amount this year would be in the neighborhood of $8. The matter was discussed and everyone was of the opinion that to join would be of great benefit, and it was decided so to do.

At the last meeting members subscribed to a donation for a wheel chair for the new Community Hospital, and at today's meeting several of the subscriptions were taken up. Those who have promised to give and were unable to do so today are asked to see the Welfare committee, Mrs. C. C. Nelson, chairman, Mrs. C. V. Calhoun, Mrs. Roy Creighton, as soon as possible.

The next business meeting of the club will be the second Tuesday in May, when nomination for officers will be in order.

On Tuesday, April 22, there will be an open meeting for club members and their guests in the Tenth Street auditorium, which will take the place of the usual social evening, two splendid speakers having been secured for that date, who will speak on the Mount Wilson observatory and exhibit slides, and Miss Helen Fisk, who will talk on the vocational work in Pasadena. Mrs. Clyde Danner is chairman of the ticket committee, and Mrs. Hjalmar Anderson will be in charge of the music.

Mrs. F. H. Manker made a plea for books for the sailors on the merchant vessels, and asked that those who had any good fiction, historical novels, or scientific books to leave them this week either at the Upland Library or with Miss Blair at the Chamber of Commerce Building, and they would be sent away as soon as possible.

SPRING VACATION BEGINS ON FRIDAY

Friday, the 11th, is a happy day for the school kids, for it means the beginning of a week of holidays.

The Upland Grammar Schools will close at the usual time next Friday and not open its doors again till Monday, 21st. Chaffey Union High School and Junior College will also observe the same time for their spring vacation.

Many of the teachers and students are planning trips and festivities during the holidays, and are hoping the rain will also take a vacation and leave them fine weather for their week's fun.

A real orator is any one who sits down within 15 minutes after he begins talking.

WHO ELSE COULD IT BE?

Mr. Lay-Towers came home the other night even later than usual. He got into the hall all right but stumbled on the first stair and his wife came to the top of the stair with her torch, which she bashed upon him.

"Is that you, Henry?" she asked curtly.

He drew himself together with all the dignity he could summon. "And who else might you be expecting at two o'clock in the morning?"—Everybody's Magazine.

A pessimist is merely one who has seen too much truth.

"What's that boy howling for now?" asked the head of the house from the depth of his newspaper. "He wants his own way!" snapped the mother.

And, with his mind on the latest war news, her husband replied: "Well, if it's his, why don't you let him have it?"

Just before the Nortons arrived at Glendale that place was visited by a cloudburst, and as the visitors drove into the town they saw the results of the tremendous stream of water which came rushing down, carrying everything before it.

The roads leading to the lake from Strawberry Flat and from the crest via Kuffel and Burnt Mill Canyons are blocked by heavy snowdrifts. Trucks operated by employees of the State Highway Commission were stalled in attempts to clear the roads early in the day.

INDIAN OPERA AT CHAFFEY HILL

Each of the characters in the "Legend of Wivaste" represents some quality recognized by the Indians—such as love, hate, courage, wisdom, or bravery, which represent the Indian ideas of passion.

Wivaste represents love and beauty; the unfailing devotion of the young Indian maiden; the beauty characteristic only of those peoples whose lives are lived in the great open spaces.

Harpstina, the rival of Wivaste, codifies rivalry and cheating; while Red Cloud, the villain, ably portrays villainy, falseness and treachery.

The Owl Man, with shrewdness and wisdom as his greatest features, apparently blunders throughout the play and influences the action by what are seemingly clumsy mistakes.

Wakawa is the good, conservative, old chief who guides his tribe with a steady true hand.

As a contrasting type to Wakawa, Honga is the young and powerful chieftain, armed with high intellectual abilities which enable him to use the many mystic symbols of their religion.

The "Story Teller," who is the prologue to the production, is an old man rich in wisdom because of his many years' experience.

Not only the words, but the basic melodies of the music express the individuality of the characters.

This typical reproduction of Indian life; their customs, their camp equipment and their costumes, is made possible through the courtesy of Mr. Blakeslee's many friends and pupils.

It is to be presented April 25 and 26.

BOOK WEEK FOR SAILORS

April 6 to April 13

Sailors have lots of water but few books. "Water, water everywhere, but not a book in sight," is the plight of many sailors on the high seas. Plenty of fresh air, wind, waves, and often sunshine, sometimes storms, are to be found, but no public libraries.

To provide sailors with good books, the California Library Association is sponsoring a movement for placing libraries aboard merchant vessels, and has designated the week April 6th to 13th as "Book Week for Sailors."

During this week the libraries of every public library in California will accept donations of books to be forwarded by the California Library Association to the distributing agencies at local ports.

Any readable, interesting book is acceptable. Short stories, fiction, travel, adventure, and popular science, as well as heavier reading are some of the subjects that sailors like. Also reference books and dictionaries.

Some steamship companies provide reading matter for the crews of their ships, but it is not a general practice, and many requests are received from seamen for books. It is felt that every community will be only too glad to respond to this appeal, and that many people, no doubt, will be willing to give at least one book that they have finished reading for this purpose.

Only a few magazines can be used—the National Geographic, Life, Judge, Popular Mechanics and Scientific American.

Donations of books taken to the public library during the week of April 6th to 13th will be transported safely to the nearest port and put into circulation on board ships for the sailors to whom are entrusted many human lives and cargoes.

For any further information call the local chairman, Mrs. F. H. Manker, at phone 88, or any member of the county committee, viz. Caroline S. Waters, county librarian, chairman of the committee; Mrs. Wilmet T. Smith, of the Women's Clubs; Mrs. H. B. Mowbray, Federation of Churches; Mrs. J. W. Barton, Chamber of Commerce, San Bernardino.

WORSE THAN THAT

Thomas was not a prime favorite with his rich uncle. In vain did he try to impress him, but the old man was not easily impressed.

One evening the young man went to his uncle's home for a call, and in the course of conversation asked:

"Uncle, don't you think it would be rather foolish for me to marry a girl who was intellectually my inferior?"

"Worse than foolish, Thomas," was the reply. "Worse than foolish—impossible!"—Success Magazine.

WOMEN TO FURNISH HOSPITAL ROOM

For the purpose of raising money to furnish a room in the new San Antonio Community Hospital, members of the Upland Woman's Club have planned a Rummage Sale to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week in the vacant store on east Ninth street formerly occupied by Benson's Grocery.

Anyone having contributions for the sale may leave them at the store on Wednesday, as there will be someone there all day in charge. Readable books, china, clothes in fairly good condition, hats, pictures, furniture, house and table linen, anything in fact that has a saleable quality will be welcomed by the committee, who in conjunction with every member of the Woman's Club is working hard to make the Sale a financial success, so that a room furnished and equipped with all necessary comforts may be given by them to the new hospital.

The Committee consists of Mrs. R. C. Norton, chairman; Mrs. W. S. Avery, Mrs. Leon Durham, Mrs. T. W. Harris, Mrs. Edward C. Harwood, Mrs. F. B. Harn, Mrs. V. H. Wilson.

HULING DENIES RECEIVING MONEY

On the witness stand under cross-examination by Chief Deputy District Attorney M. O. Hert for hours yesterday, John E. Huling, accused of complicity in the $30,000 Ontario fraud, denied that he profited by cashing city warrants delivered to him by Fred E. Alford.

Producing a cashier's check issued by a Los Angeles bank, the prosecutor asked Huling if he had not pocketed $87 of $587.75 received in two warrants from Alford and which he cashed with a business associate. Huling quickly denied the charge.

"Now isn't it a fact that that $87 was your profit in the deal?" asked the prosecutor again.

"No, sir," Huling answered, curtly. The evidence showed that Huling had received the two warrants, cashed them with a friend, and later deposited the friend's check, then buying a cashier's check for Alford, less the $87. Huling was questioned for hours by Mr. Hert and was on the stand under cross-examination today.

CHAFFEY GIRLS PRESENT HILLTOP PLAY

An allegorical play written by Miss Janet Stone of the Chaffey Girls' Work Organization, and produced under her direction, was given on Thursday and Friday of last week in the Chaffey auditorium.

Mothers of the GHI Reserves were invited, and over three hundred were present from Etiwanda, Cucamonga, Alta Loma, Ontario and Upland to witness the pretty play, and afterwards enjoy punch and cake as guests of their daughters.

The lighting effects and costumes were wonderful and Miss Stone's work was very highly praised by all who saw the play. Those taking part were Eudora Fredendall, Gertrude Greenlee, Florence Smith, Caroline Brownson, Bertha Goodrich, Harriett Hiller, Dorothy Williams, all of whom did very creditable work.

GUARDS ARE EXPERTS IN DOG FINDING

Quarantine officers enforcing the embargo against dogs in their efforts to prevent the spread of the hoof and mouth disease to this county are becoming expert in their work, it is reported by no less a personage than George T. Brooks, Farm Bureau Secretary and Deputy Horticultural Inspector. Confronted with the belief that a dog was concealed somewhere about a car he had stopped on the Foothill Boulevard, the guard questioned the young woman driving. "Of course I have no dog," she declared. Unconvinced, the guard whistled. The result was a commotion and the head of a diminutive terrier appeared from underneath the driver's skirt.

Mr. Brooks has warned people with pet dogs that it is easier to have them disinfected and crated so they can be carried by permit, than to be forced to turn back on a trip, especially if the dogs can be called by whistling.

Every man knows whether he is a success or a failure, but nobody else does. Those who will dance must pay the saxophonists.

RAILROAD POLICE RECOVER PROPERTY OF LARGE VALUE

Keeping the peace on a large railroad is a big job. This is shown by the annual report made today by Dan O'Connell, chief special agent for the Southern Pacific Company.

In the report for 1923, O'Connell states that property valued at more than $50,000 was recovered through vigilance of railroad police officers. This consisted of articles ranging from a switchkey valued at 25 cents to a handbag containing negotiable papers to the value of $4,810.

More than 200 police officers are maintained by the Southern Pacific to protect passengers and freight. They also co-operate with federal and local officers in preventing crime in the states served by the company.

IMPORT STOCK FOR LOCAL TRADE

The following statement was issued from the offices of the San Antonio Meat Company offices relative to the fresh meat supply of this community:

Up to the present time, under the rigid scrutiny of the United States inspection which is always in force at our plant, not the slightest indication of disease has appeared in any livestock on our premises either by ante-mortem or post-mortem examination. We are, however, enforcing a strict protective quarantine. This is done not only for the protection of our own business but for the further reason that the introduction of the infection into our yards would be a serious menace to all of the livestock interests in our vicinity.

Strict Quarantine
No persons are permitted to enter our premises except our employees. Not even our customers are permitted to visit our coolers. Purchasers calling at the plant are stopped at the highway and delivery made to them there. Our trucks and personal automobiles pass through a disinfecting solution as they enter and leave the premises.

We are destroying the pigeons and blackbirds which habitually feed about our yards both to prevent the introduction of infection and also to safeguard our neighbors in the event that our yards should become infected later on.

From Outside States
For some time past practically all of our beef and mutton supply has come from the state of Utah and our hogs from Kansas. Since the small supply of local dairy cattle customarily purchased for sausage purposes is now cut off and has been for nearly a week by the quarantine regulations, our supply of livestock for slaughter is imported entirely from territory outside the quarantine area. All steers now in our yards are from Utah, and all hogs from Kansas.

Up to the present time our livestock supply has not been seriously interrupted and for the present we are, with a few unimportant exceptions, taking care of a normal business.

HULING ASSERTS HE IS INNOCENT

With John E. Huling, defendant in the asserted $30,000 Ontario fraud, for which Fred E. Alford is serving 20 years in San Quentin, testifying in his own behalf, the trial in Superior Court has settled down to a long siege of routine evidence concerning records of transactions which resulted in the fraud charges being preferred against the two men. The trial probably will last several days longer, attorneys say.

Huling went on the stand Tuesday afternoon as the first defense witness, and since that time has been questioned by his attorneys, O. G. Hoegstedt and McNabb & Hodge. Only a small part of the voluminous records have been examined by the defense, with Huling testifying as to his knowledge of the various transactions represented by the papers. It is freely admitted by Huling that he was the head of the two fictitious firms who "sold" thousands of dollars worth of material to the city of Ontario, with Alford as the purchaser for the city. He claims, however, to have had no knowledge of any crooked work connected with the transactions, his position being merely that of a friend favoring the then Ontario city manager.

THREE INDIAN CEREMONIES TO BE FEATURED

Three Indian ceremonies are to be featured in the coming opera to be given at Chaffey towards the end of the month. The information which has made the presentation of these ceremonies possible was obtained partly through Mr. Blakeslee's personal experiences among the Indians and partly from friends of his who are authorities on Indian life, and who have published some books concerning Indian customs.

"The Calumet" is a ceremony which has never before been presented in public. The only persons who have seen it are those who have studied the customs of the Indians in their villages. The transference of this ceremony to the stage is to be as near like the original as it is possible to make it. "The Calumet" is a wand which at any time, even during wars, protects the holder from all harm.

The "Dance of the Virgin" is the last dance of the Indian legend, and is given at the culminating point of action in the opera.

The collecting and composing of the music and words for this opera have taken many months of research and conscientious study. The pleasing Indian music in the presentation amply repays the composer for all his work.

The characters in it are represented by the leading voices in the community. Many of the singers have had numerous past successes in operas here and elsewhere.

They are supported by a chorus of the best trained voices in Chaffey.

by Alford were made out to Mrs. E. S. O'Neil, Huling's mother-in-law, and Mrs. B. Emerson, his sister-in-law, the defendant says that he got no part of the money paid in this manner, as in each case a personal check was given by the two women, which in turn was deposited to his own account and later returned to Alford.

Efforts of the defense to bring out in Huling's testimony that he paid all the money to Alford resulted in the court ruling, upon objections from the prosecution, that the evidence was incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, that Huling should not tell what became of the money after it was deposited to his account.

No denial of having accepted the city warrants from Alford is made by Huling, his contention being that the former came to him and told of his plan to obtain material at a lower cost by cash payments, and requested that the defendant handle the warrants. Alford further requested, Huling testified that the latter's name should not appear on the warrants, and suggested the use of Mrs. O'Neil's name and that of Mrs. Emerson.

The whole transaction, as indicated by Huling's testimony, was planned by Alford to have the money for city purchases returned to him without either Alford's or Huling's name appearing on the records. As he had explicit faith in Alford's integrity, Huling says that he believed no wrong was being committed in any of the transactions.

ONTARIO

The nominating committee of the Rotary Club of Ontario, of which Claude W. Randall is chairman, made its report at the regular weekly meeting of that organization Thursday.

Nominees suggested by the committee for officers of the club for the year starting next month were as follows: Glenn D. Smith, president; Howard M. Shattuck, secretary; Ben W. Spencer, treasurer; Roy D. Newton, James B. Draper, W. A. Freeman and J. S. Ingalls, directors. The nomination of Mr. Smith for president of the club is an expression of the appreciation of his work in the interest of the organization since it was started here two years ago.

The meeting was featured with interesting talks by Harry Cook, dairyman, and Edgar Wight, jeweler, on the subject "What Rotary Means to Me." The Rotary motto, "Service Before Self," was clearly illustrated in their addresses.

H. L. Allen, manager of the Daily Report, delivered a craft talk on newspaper work, dealing with each phase of the game. Speaking from the news stand point, Mr. Allen recited the creed of the late President Warren G. Harding which he used in conducting his own newspaper, the Marion, Ohio, Star, and also told of its being used as a standard by other news publications.

Much interest was shown in a birthday talk by George McCrea, in which he recited events in his life from the time of his birth in Ontario, Canada, until he came to Ontario, Calif. Mr. McCrea is one of the prominent bankers of this city.

The Rev. John B. Toomay, pastor of the First Congregational Church, was congratulated by other Rotarians on the arrival of a baby son in his home. The baby bears the name of Theodore Garrison Toomay, his father being an enthusiastic follower of the late Theodore Roosevelt.

Frank E. Opitz of the Ontario Sheet Metal Works, was received as a new member into the Rotary club. He sat in the high chair used for "baby" Rotarians.

WILL DOUBLE INCOME

With the expectation of doubling the present production of his 25-acre ranch on Turner avenue, to the east of Ontario, B. W. Collins is today engaged in the development of a well and the installation of a complete irrigation system at a cost of more than $20,000.

The Collins ranch, which is one of the oldest in this section, is chiefly to peaches and grapes and the owner has recently obtained home 80 acres, now set to old peach trees, which must soon be removed or to grapes of low commercial value, with English walnuts. Operated for years without irrigation, the ranch has proven a paying proposition, but with the development of the well and the water system installation, Mr. Collins expects to more than double his income from the property.

The rancher expects to pump more than 200 inches of water from the well, which will be operated by electric motor. In the installation of the irrigation system, cement pipe is being used except where the main pipe under the railroad or highway, where steel pipe is employed. Mr. Collins is cross-piping each ten acres of the great ranch. He expects to have well and irrigation system in operation by May 1st.

Several members of the Upland Business Men's Association were guests at the luncheon, and were as follows: E. R. Swan, H. C. Naylor, A. W. Burt, J. L. Grahame, Milton Huxtable and Glenn Atwood.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEES NAMED

Ontario Chamber of Commerce committees for the annual membership and campaign have been appointed by the board of directors of that organization, and are now at work outlining plans for the drive.

A meeting of the executive and service fund committees was held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the chamber of commerce offices. At that time a goal for the number of members to be solicited and the amount of money to be raised in the campaign were decided upon.

S. P. Morris of the organization service department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who has been secured to manage the campaign, was present at the meeting of the committees Monday. The drive will open with a banquet Tuesday evening, April 15, and will be followed by a two-day roll call April 16 and 17.

The local Chamber of Commerce has assisted greatly in putting over quite a number of projects in the city the last year, and has done much for the general welfare of the community. Whitehearted co-operation with Chambers of Commerce in neighboring cities in working for their general good was another feature of the year's accomplishments.

CANCEL AIR CIRCUS

The aviation circus, which was scheduled to be held at the Ontario Airport Saturday, had to be cancelled due to the strong and blowing wind in this section. According to W. D. Waterman, director of the Ontario-Big Bear air line, eighteen planes were scheduled to make their appearance here for the event. It was also necessary to cancel a luncheon which was to have been given in honor of the aviators by the Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

Helping the Client To Finance His Home

By Harry F. Hossack
Jr. Vice President, Security Housing Corporation

The subject of home financing may be divided into three sections, private money, banks and building and loan associations.

Savings banks are the biggest source of home financing. The savings banks can make only real estate loans. They make a great many building loans. Next to them are the building and loan associations, but in between come the private money sources.

The banks make their loans under very strict regulations. They are limited to sixty per cent of the valuation of the property, but the actual practice of banks in making loans is to limit their loans to forty per cent of the value of the property on a cash basis. That means that the bank funds have to be supplemented by second loans.

Private money covers a very broad field, and might also include the private mortgage association.

Building and loan associations are more popular in the east than they are here due to the fact that they are better known, people have settled longer in one place, and the character of property does not change as rapidly as it does here, where property that five years ago was residential is now business, industrial or as in Long Beach, ruined for residential purposes by oil development. However, the building and loan idea is very strong in this state. According to the last building and loan association report there were 115 building and loan associations in California, and about 17 have been organized in this state this year, mostly in the south.

Purposes Are Outlined

The purposes of the building and loan association is to raise money for the building of homes. They are limited by law and strict regulations.

They can lend before construction and afterwards. Their whole plan is devised for the purpose of home building through the savings of the home-builder himself. In this state the practice of a young institution is to divide its loans among its own subscribers. The building and loan association can help the home-builder in practice to about fifty or sixty per cent of the value of the property. They make it possible to get a building loan as they will make a loan in advance of construction. The building and loan association is mutual by law. When a charter is obtained, they have to state that the charter is obtained for a mutual organization. The mutual character of the association, naturally built up through the lenders, averages the loan down to a very low level. The average loan in California is a little over $2,000.00.

How Loans Are Repaid

Their loans are repaid through a variety of plans running from five to ten and eleven years, with the interest and principal payable each month, interest running five, to eight, nine and twelve per cent on the monthly balances.

If you have a monthly payment loan of $10.00 or $12.00 or $15.00 per month, it is a difficult bookkeeping problem, so it is figured quarterly in advance. But, as a matter of fact, that practice increases the interest. Seven and one-half per cent may become eight or nine per cent. Some firms set forth their actual rate of interest. The amount raises the rate quite a bit. Most firms, however, figure their interest annually in advance. That of the loan in size is small. It usually is about fifty per cent of the value of the property here in Los Angeles, and the average rate of interest is a little over eight per cent. The building and loan associations constitute a real element in home financing.

"LIGHTNIN" IS SENSATIONAL HIT

"Lightnin," the famous stage classic which has taken almost six years to reach Los Angeles, has achieved a sensational hit at the Biltmore Theatre, where it is now in its fourth record-breaking week. California theater-goers have taken "Lightnin" Bill Jones to their heart and the Biltmore has been packed to absolute capacity at every performance.

Playgoers from all over the world have witnessed "Lightnin," and some have been known to return as many as twenty times to see it over again. In fact, aside from the sentimental interest the piece holds for Californians, it has reached that point in its career where thousands of theatergoers go to see it out of curiosity; to find out for themselves, if possible, just what subtle twist it possesses to enable it not only to break every known record in the history of the theater but to set a stage precedent for long runs and popularity that will go down in dramatic history as one of the most remarkable achievements the theater has ever known.

Percy Pollock has duplicated out here his Boston and Philadelphia success in the title role. As "Lightnin" Bill Jones he gives a splendid portrayal of the easy-going ne'er-do-well, fond of his glass and his story, but also fond of his family. It is a character that would have delighted the soul of Jefferson, and it is mainly due to his quaint and lovable qualities that "Lightnin" owes its tremendous vogue.

Thirteen of the original playgoers who appeared with Frank Bacon during the memorable run of "Lightnin" in New York are still appearing in the roles they created. This includes Jane Oakley, James Roberts, Jessie Pringle, Sam Ganton, Thomas MacLarnie, Sam Colt, Anne Merrick, Margaret Campbell, Minnie Palmer, Percy Winter, John Hamilton, William F. Granger, May Duryea and Jas. C. Lane.

Bark of the tree, quillaja saponaria, yields a soapy liquid valued for washing woollens.

CERTIFY EASTERN FRUIT SHIPMENTS

safeguards. He said his company would cook the garbage before it was brought into this county. The garbage is now being cooked near Fontana.

To Close Chino Hog Farm
The supervisors issued the order that all garbage brought into this county be cooked before it crosses the line. Steps by the health department to deal with the Chino hog-farm were also ordered, when it was charged the sanitary condition was deplorable.

Appropriation of $1000 to enforce the general quarantine in this county was voted by the supervisors.

Manure cannot be moved away from ranches or dairies. All dogs must be confined on owners' premises.

Returning from the meeting of citrus shippers and horticultural commissioners held in Los Angeles yesterday, Mr. Coy declared that fruit shipments were to be curtailed from infested areas. From non-infested areas shippers can secure the inspection and certification of their fruit from Mr. Coy or one of his deputies.

Hope to Satisfy Eastern States
While eastern states have made a variety of regulations against California exportations, it is believed that fruit certified by horticultural commissioners or state officers will be passed and accepted generally.

GIRL ORATOR CHOSEN

Miss Alice Laidlaw will be the first girl student in the history of Chaffey Union High School to represent that school in the annual oratorical contest of the Citrus Belt League.

Miss Laidlaw won over three other contestants in the local school's finals held in the Chaffey auditorium Monday morning. The Citrus Belt League contest for this year will be held in Riverside next Saturday evening, with representatives from all five schools in the league competing. The winner of the contest at Riverside will be awarded a loving cup. Two years ago, the cup was won by William Reigh, a student of Chaffey Union High School.

The contestants and their subjects in the finals here yesterday morning were as follows: Ralph Arnold, "Antonio Mathew"; William Fenwick, "America and Britain for Civilization"; Malcolm Gaul, "The Death of Lafayette"; and Miss Alice Laidlaw, "Thurston's Plea for Cuba."

LOAN ASSOCIATION MEETS

Judging by the loans for residential purposes granted by the People's Mutual Building and Loan Association at the meeting of the directors of that organization yesterday, it appears that there will be no let-up in the home building program in Ontario during the next few weeks. It is very probable, according to local observers, that home building in this city will continue to increase at a steady pace in the next few months.

The meeting of the building and loan association was the regular monthly session held at the company offices, 235 North Euclid Avenue. Loans aggregating $37,300, and providing for the erection of sixteen new dwellings, were granted by the association.

The monthly financial report presented by Secretary J. O. Henderson revealed that the association is in a very prosperous condition, $32,500 being received for paid stock, and $21,384 dues and interest being collected during the month of March.

PROMINENT WOMAN INJURED

Mrs. W. P. Rayner, who suffered painful bruises Sunday afternoon when an automobile in which she was riding skidded on the pavement near El Monte, Calif., was today confined to her bed in the Charming apartment in the French building. The extent of her injuries was to be learned today when an X-ray examination was to be made by Dr. C. Sheppard, who is attending Mrs. Rayner. Although she probably sustained bruises only, it is quite possible that she suffered internal injuries also. None of the other occupants of the automobile, driven by Dr. C. Sheppard, who is attending Mrs. Rayner, were injured, and the car was not damaged in the least. The other persons in the car were Mrs. May, Mrs. Carrie Wickman, a sister of Mrs. Rayner; and Mrs. Emma Reed. A pavement in the neighborhood of El Monte caused the abrupt swerve of the car.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE

Automobiles driven by J. A. Gilligan 910 Trust and Savings Bank Building, Los Angeles, and C. H. Chilton, West Ninth Street, Upland, crashed at the corner of A street and Euclid avenue Sunday night, but only slight damage was done. None of the occupants were injured. Night Officer O. F. Clark inspected the cars after the collision.

RAINFALL CONTINUES

Considerable amount of rain has fallen here the last few days, bringing the total for the season to date 11.72 inches. On this same date last year, the total for the season had reached 12.17 inches. Rainfall Sunday night amounted to .98 inch, and during Saturday evening 25 inch of rain fell. Thunder and lightning accompanied the storms.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS

At the meeting of the City Council Monday night approval of the subdivision between H and I streets west of Campus, owned by officials of the Western Savings Bank, was given. A continuation of the thoroughfare known as Granada Court, 60 feet wide, will be laid through the premises of the developers. Those interested in the subdivision are George Oliver, president of the Western Savings Bank, A. L. Parinley, vice-president, F. Sherman, assistant secretary and Wm. L. Waugh, all of Los Angeles.

Residents of the vicinity of Grove Street and Fern Avenue complained that P. A. Robb is maintaining a public nuisance in taking care of city garbage. It is asserted in the petition for abatement that the odors from Robb's premises are such that surrounding property values have depreciated. Council will investigate.

O. S. Rown, city manager, reported that he believed that the city could put in foundations for a gas pumping engine at the city wells more cheaply than the company which is to supply the new machinery. Council voted that he be allowed to undertake this work. The operation will commence soon.

This would not prevent the shipment of citrus fruit from Los Angeles County or any other county in which the disease exists unless the disease is in the area from which the fruit is shipped. It was explained by E. G. Dezell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

Quarantine Not Uniform
"The quarantine requirements of eastern and mid-west states regarding the shipment of citrus fruits or vegetables are not uniform," Mr. Dezell said. "We are planning to arrange for the issuance of certificates giving every car of fruit or vegetables shipped from Southern California's unfested district a clean bill of health, so to speak."

"There is really no occasion for placing an embargo on fruit unless it comes from the area in which the disease actually exists. We are taking this measure to assure the eastern states that we do not intend to let fruit get out of here if there is actually danger of its carrying the disease."

An Exceptional Value!

It requires no technical knowledge of automobiles to appreciate the outstanding value of the Ford Touring Car.

Not only is it the lowest priced five-passenger car on the market, but it is also a car that costs little to operate, little to keep in condition and has an unusually high resale value after years of service.

All Ford Cars are sold on convenient deferred terms, or may be purchased under the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.
